G. C. C. MEETINGS

The Glenside Color Computer Club meets the second Thursday of each month at the Schaumburg Township District Library at 7:30 PM. If you need a map, see our Glenside Homepage at:

<http://members.aol.com/clubbbs/glenside/>

A social get-together always follows at a nearby restaurant.

FROM OUR CoCoFEST! ORGANIZER

The purpose of THIS newsletter is to encourage as many of our readers as possible to attend this year's CoCoFEST! on this, the 20th Anniversary of the CoCo 3 computer. A great deal of the time at Glenside meetings during the year is spent planning the next CoCoFEST! - discussing what went well at the last fest and how we can improve the next to give the attendees the most pleasurable time possible. To this end we try to provide the best social time possible with event planning and a sit down dinner starting with hors d'oeuvres where we can all get together and reacquaint old friendships. We are also planning auctions and extras such as after dinner music session, and coffee & rolls for vendors.

In our newsletters we try to show the social side of our CoCo Community and inform users of new products. We know that the CoCo is not the only computer under your roof, so you will see mention from time to time of tools used on "the other machine" such as Gizmo used by the CoCo community to allow members to join in on our Glenside meetings. Be sure to visit GLENSIDE'S Website;

<http://members.aol.com/clubbbs/glenside/>

As of this writing, we have 10 confirmed exhibitors. They are: FWD Computing, Tux Driver, Hawksoft, Bargeman Research Labs, Luckey's Corner, Dave & Sue Poitras, Richard & Brenda Crislip, Malcolm Cleveland, Cloud9tech and Roy R Justus. Intentions have been received from others, but their documents have not yet arrived, so we can't really call them "confirmed", now, can we?

If you arrive at the hotel on Friday, there might be a possibility of setting up after 5:00. If so, please Check out the Exhibition room to see if you can help out. We can use all the help we can get. There are tables to place and drape; power cords to position; signs to lay out; vehicles to unload; systems to set up and boot (and kick when they don't).

Attendee Passes -- $10 both days, $7 Sunday only.
Exhibitor 1st table -- $35 Additional tables -- $30
Exhibitor's Passes -- $5.00

You are invited to bring a music instrument for the music session after dinner if you can.

We have always had a fantastic time, and we expect this year to be even better. We really hope you can come.

And, if you can, please drop us an email by clicking the mailbox on our web site to let us know you will be there and encourage us.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DISK

Hey, folks it's almost that time of year again, the next "LAST" CoCoFEST! I am very much looking forward to the Fest this year. I am remembering last year's Fest and how much I enjoyed seeing everyone, enjoyed all the activities, and especially enjoyed having the wireless access. I am also looking forward to seeing the new items our vendors have to offer.

We are at the same location this year and I am hoping that everyone who was present last year will be returning and that many others who we missed last year will be attending this year.

Gizmo Project makes a meeting again:

When you read the minutes of the February meeting you will learn that we held the meeting over the Internet and used Gizmo to communicate with each other. This was the first time we used Gizmo and not everything was smooth.

Gizmo is program that allows over the Internet telephoning. The program can be downloaded free from gizmoproject.com. With this program, you can make phone calls to others, even over their land lines. The cost is $.02 a minute, and if two people have Gizmo on their computers with internet access the calls are free. Conference and Instant Messaging (IM) calls are also available. I was surprised about how clear the voice communication was, far better than AIM and Yahoo communicator. During the meeting I was talking with Boisy and I could even hear him typing on his keyboard.

A dream I have had is to use my laptop computer at our meetings and set up a conference call so that other members could join the meeting and take part in the proceedings. Bob Swoger, Boisy, and I tried to use the conference calling system and it didn't work very well that evening. I would still like to try it at our meetings. In place of the conference call we could use an IM chat room, although I haven't gotten that to work with more than one other person.

See you at the FEST!

Howard Luckey, President
Glenside Color Computer Club

THE SECRETARY'S NOTEBOOK

December 8, 2005

Howard convened the meeting to the internet as it wasn't worth risking life and limb in icy weather. We got on the internet at 7 pm. Howard Luckey, Bob Swoger, Chris Hawks, George Schneeweiss and Mark Marlette joined in. Later, Tony Podraza responded from Bob's home.

Bob sent out the November 11 meeting minutes to all. He followed this with the newsletter he is working on hoping to get it mailed before the month ends. He can continue to work on it, get it approved by all and printed by Tony and mailed. Let him know if we need other things in the newsletter like Fest info.

George gave the following treasurer's report: As of December 8, 2005, we had 128 members paid thru 2005. We also received $184 in additional donations.

Bob Swoger reported that Frank Davis is pressing us to get the next fest Logo to him. He reminds us that we are having the fest early this year and he needs input early.

Boisy suggested the theme of a 20th anniversary of the CoCo 3's debug. "It was introduced in June 1986 and I think it would be an excellent time to honor this machine. The logo could reflect this somehow." The meeting adjourned at 9:01 pm.

January 12, 2006

Howard called the meeting to order at 7:33 pm at the Schaumburg Library. Present were Howard Luckey, Bob Swoger, Chris Hawks, Brian Goers, and Tony Podraza.

Treasurer George emailed the treasurers report. Bob Swoger read the meeting minutes of the December meeting held on the Internet.

Bob reported that the Winter issue of the CoCo~123 Newsletters were mailed out on January 7, 2006 to 170 recipients. Eight have been returned due to the recipients, Roger Merchberger, Luis TanOn Garcia, Leon Howell, Fred Provoncha, Tom Schaefges, Ben Jimenez, Bruce Calkins and Alex Evans leaving no forwarding addresses.

The 2006 Fest Logo was the next subject for discussion. We went to the Glenside web site and showed the CoCo 3 Easter egg background. Chris pointed out that the picture was not accurate, that the boarder was missing. Bob will supply the more accurate background to Jim Johnson, our artist.

It was decided we are going with the CoCo 3 Easter egg as the background, a cake in the foreground with CoCo 3 on top. Boisy suggested, "Spread across the top of the picture, you might want to go with: "Happy 20th Birthday CoCo 3!" and on the bottom you could put: "You're almost grown!" or some other catchy saying... something with a bit of humor." He also recommended putting in the graphic some pictures of party hats and party favors, balloons, confetti, etc. and keep the look really colorful and classy. Bob will give our artist, Jim Johnson, these inputs and see what Jim comes up with.

Bob was asked to send contract out to venders by VP Tony. The meeting adjourned at 9:35 pm.

February 9, 2006

This monthly meeting session of the Glenside Color Computer Club was once again held on the Internet. Those present were in Howard Luckey, Chris Hawks, Tony Podraza, Bob Swoger and Boisy Pitre. Howard Luckey introduced us to GIZMO. except Chris Hawks downloaded the Gizmo software. Because Chris Hawks was at home on landline without high-speed capability, he decided not to try to download the 9 MB GIZMO file. The rest of us tried to meet in a chat room. When Bob Swoger tried to enter the chat room, he heard Boisy and Howard just fine. However, it was reported that Bob's audio was choppy. Tony Podraza was located at the Schaumburg public library because he had a high-speed connection from that location. When he tried to join the chat room, those in the chat room heard only noise. Bob emailed all IMs to those on the email list.

We decided to make March 15 the deadline for the next CoCo~123 Newsletter. We will concentrate on emphasizing the fest. We will do that by getting input from Cloud-9 as to their offering of products to be sold at the fest. This same question should be asked to all the venders as to what they will be offering to the attendees.

We will also be sure in to inform the readers of the hotel prices for accommodations. One item we forgot to mention at the meeting was to ask Tony if there would be any reward for filling rooms in our block at the Fest. His answer off-line was "No".

Bob Swoger reported that the shirt logo was finished and should have been picked up by Frank Davis by this time. Bob will email Frank Davis to be certain and that he has received the logo and is happy with the artwork.

Bob Swoger reported that the contracts for the vendors were put into the mail Saturday February 4th. Boisy said that he had not yet received his copy of the contract. Contracts were not sent to vendors that had already responded.

The meeting adjourned at approximately 9:20 pm. At that time Boisy Pitre contacted Bob Swoger for a one-on-one conversation. Bob then called Howard Luckey to sum up all that had gone on in the meeting and noted the clarity of a one-on-one conversation using gizmo. Bob then called Tony to show him the clarity of a one-on-one gizmo conversation. Tony signed off at 9:30 pm as he was getting tired.

March 9, 2006

President Howard Luckey called the meeting to order at 7:47 pm. Also present were Chris Hawks, Tony Podraza and Bob Swoger.

During the meeting, Bob Swoger listened to Gizmo on the Internet. He heard no activity. However, Boisy Pitre left a Gizmo voice mail message saying he had tried to communicate with us. We will try again at our April meeting.

Old Business:

As of this meeting we have 5 confirmed exhibitors and 3 others that have said they have sent in their contracts. We have not heard from Cloud 9, Brother Jeremy or Dave Keil as yet.

New business:

Bob was instructed to mention our hors devours at dinner, after dinner music session, coffee & rolls for venders during the fest, and auctions in our next newsletter.

The meeting adjourned at 8:50 pm.

Chris Hawks gave us the "Show Of The Evening", his new CoCo RGB To S-Video Converter. He had purchased a flat screen Samsung TV. with Stereo and external audio/video inputs including an S-Video input. The monitor's finish was Timex/Sinclair Silver which made Bob's eyes light up. Chris had 2 versions of the adapter at the meeting. The one he demonstrated showed the "screen shift left" problem of the CoCo due to late horizontal sync pulses. The second unit had a fix aboard for the problem which allows for continuous control of horizontal centering. He was not able to show how this version functions as the chip adapter required for the unit arrived only this afternoon. We were all really impressed with the great picture we saw coming from the CoCo 3. Look for Chris to demo this again at the Fest.

After the show we all went to Portillo's for the meeting after.

Yes, I want to get a table again, help the group out. The car was totaled after the third wreck, I have a Civic Hybrid now, and I'm planning on bring my sound system again, maybe some other surprises, lol. My second crash went to court a few days ago (finally) I may end up on court TV, lol, interesting testimony, they must be using star trek technology to have come up with the explanation they did. My first crash involved some of the same stuff too. Karl Frank Davis wrote: Bob, sorry for the delay and I realize I may be too late, but things have been hectic here as I play medic at home.

Carol has spent the last three weeks with her leg in a cast. Got it all banged up when we were at the Sheraton Hotel in Arlington Heights by falling down a set of stairs and the rest of my time has been taking care of our adopted granddaughter who is with us recuperating from cancer surgery (she turns 14 next month, Priscilla. so I have been late on email.....)

That all said we will be at the fest and our form has been mailed in earlier this week. The shirts will be there, as well as Coco mouse pads and Coco Coasters and a new Coco surprise as well. We will have lots of new, rare audio books on CD, PC software and hard to find movies from the past as well as a few new Independent films. I plan to bring my African, baked Moroccan clay drums with Gazelle skin tops to join in the music festivities. This is a new four drum set. So let us go wild with the music!

Tim Hennon wrote: The Color Computer 2 & CoCo 3 were huge parts of my childhood in the 1980's! Around about 1992 I ditched it in favor of my first "real" computer, a 286 running DOS. It's great to see people like you keeping the CoCo 3 alive.

Anyway, one day when I was about 12 or 13, I worked up the gumption to write a program and submit it to Rainbow magazine. They actually published it!!! I remember looking at that check for $25 and thinking how cool it was that a simple program I wrote appeared in a magazine that I had been reading at the time for about 3 years. I have long since lost that copy of Rainbow magazine, and I would now like to find it.

The problem that I have is that I can't remember which issue it appeared in! I'm pretty certain that it will be in an issue somewhere from June of 1988 to August of 1990. Can you help me track down which issue my old program is in? If not, can you direct me to someone who could?

I've seen the Rainbow on-line store at <http://www.the-e-mall.net/netcat.htm>, but unfortunately they don't seem to have a contact address. Short of spending $300 buying every issue in the time frame, I'm at a loss on how to pinpoint the issue I'd like.

Any help you can send my way is greatly appreciated. Thank you, and have a good one.

Tony Podraza wrote that he sent the requested OS9 Y2K update to RC Smith last week. RC acknowledged receiving it.

Brother Jeremy was asked if he would be at the fest and bring his guitar: Dear Bob and Tony, Yes and Yes. I am sorry for the lateness of this reply. Things have been more hectic than usual. If I had hair I would probably be tearing it out. (I know that the very hairs on our head are numbered, I just wish God hadn't pulled out ones so He wouldn't count them twice.....)

ANOTHER COUNTRY HEARD FROM

I just received an e-mail from David Keil. You remember him? He is the Emulator author who has been coming to the FEST! for the past 3-5 years. He's been writing Emulators for many years, starting with the Model I and on. Here's an excerpt from his e-mail.

... I would like to come to give out the emulator, answer questions and give a seminar on the uses, advantages, functionality and ways around the XP and the future Vista OS problems. Also the hope that Microsoft (by it's deceitful business practices) may be actually helping to push Linux and then other OS's into the mainstream.

A real reason to come (besides my just wanting to) is to provide CHEAP dedicated systems for running the emulator in DOS or Win 98. I have access to 300mhz-500mhz systems at costs that allow me to sell them at costs at or below what I did last year ($30 or below including everything except monitor. I can get 14" monitors for free or almost free but their size and weight make getting and bringing them impractical).

Do you know if there is a demand at least the level of last year. If so I can bring systems for sale as dedicated CoCo systems. If there is a demand I am happy to donate all profit from sales (after covering my trip, lodging and table expenses) to the club. This would allow me to attend and would also benefit the club.

If it is possible to determine a demand and I can come I would like to schedule my seminar for Saturday (the interest last year was more than I expected and many wrote e-mails to me disappointed that they missed it) so as many people have the chance to attend as want to since many attendees don't stay for Sunday and would miss it if it were scheduled for Sunday. Being on the schedule would also insure attendees know about it and can schedule for it. Last year's last minute squeezed in seminar (my fault for not deciding in advance) surprised me in both attendance and interest so I wanted to commit to giving one so it can be scheduled and everyone can attend who want to.

E-mail me ASAP if you have the resources and ability to get even a rough idea of demand. If you can I'll start making plans and find a system that will meet the need. If it's something beyond your resources or not achievable let me know and I'll at least try to find a business reason to be in the area. Then I can at least drop in and see you all.

Even if I can't attend, I hope the show is a great success and I hope to see you some time soon.

David

THE OLD PHONE

When I was quite young, my father had one of the first telephones in our neighborhood. I remember the polished, old case fastened to the wall. The shiny receiver hung on the side of the box. I was too little to reach the telephone, but used to listen with fascination when my mother talked to it. Then I discovered that somewhere inside the wonderful device lived an amazing person. Her name was "Information Please" and there was nothing she did not know. Information Please could supply anyone's number and the correct time.

My personal experience with the genie-in-a-bottle came one day while my mother was visiting a neighbor. Amusing myself at the tool bench in the basement, I whacked my finger with a hammer, the pain was terrible, but there seemed no point in crying because there was no one home to give sympathy. I walked around the house sucking my throbbing finger, finally arriving at the stairway. The telephone! Quickly, I ran for the footstool in the parlor and dragged it to the landing. Climbing up, I unhooked the receiver in the parlor and held it to my ear. "Information, please" I said into the mouthpiece just above my head. A click or two and a small clear voice spoke into my ear. "Information."

"I hurt my finger..." I wailed into the phone, the tears came readily enough now that I had an audience. "Isn't your mother home?" came the question. "Nobody's home but me," I blubbered. "Are you bleeding?" the voice asked.

"No," I replied. "I hit my finger with the hammer and it hurts."

"Can you open the icebox?" she asked.

I said I could.

"Then chip off a little bit of ice and hold it to your finger," said the voice.

After that, I called "Information Please" for everything. I asked her for help with my geography, and she told me where Philadelphia was. She helped me with my math. She told me my pet chipmunk that I had caught in the park just the day before, would eat fruit and nuts. Then, there was the time Petey, our pet canary, died. I called, Information Please and told her the sad story. She listened, and then said things grown-ups say to soothe a child. But I was not consoled. I asked her, "Why is it that birds should sing so beautifully and bring joy to all families, only to end up as a heap of feathers on the bottom of a cage?" She must have sensed my deep concern, for she said quietly, "Paul, always remember that there are other worlds to sing in." Somehow I felt better.

Another day I was on the telephone, "Information Please."

"Information," said in the now familiar voice. "How do I spell fix?" I asked. All this took place in a small town in the Pacific Northwest.

When I was nine years old, we moved across the country to Boston. I missed my friend very much. "Information Please" belonged in that old wooden box back home and I somehow never thought of trying the shiny new phone that sat on the table in the hall. As I grew into my teens, the memories of those childhood conversations never really left me. Often, in moments of doubt and perplexity I would recall the serene sense of security I had then. I appreciated now how patient, understanding, and kind she was to have spent her time on a little boy. A few years later, on my way west to college, my plane put down in Seattle. I had about a half-hour or so between planes. I spent 15 minutes or so on the phone with my sister, who lived there now. Then without thinking what I was doing, I dialed my hometown operator and said, "Information Please."

Miraculously, I heard the small, clear voice I knew so well.

"Information." I hadn't planned this, but I heard myself saying, "Could you please tell me how to spell fix?" There was a long pause. Then came the soft spoken answer, "I guess your finger must have healed by now." I laughed, "So it's really you," I said. "I wonder if you have any idea how much you meant to me during that time?"

"I wonder," she said, "if you know how much your call meant to me. I never had any children and I used to look forward to your calls." I told her how often I had thought of her over the years and I asked if I could call her again when I came back to visit my sister. "Please do", she said. "Just ask for Sally." Three months later I was back in Seattle. A different voice answered, "Information." I asked for Sally.

"Are you a friend?" she said.

"Yes, a very old friend," I answered.

"I'm sorry to have to tell you this," she said. "Sally had been working part-time the last few years because she was sick. She died five weeks ago." Before I could hang up she said, "Wait a minute, did you say your name was Paul?" "Yes." I answered. "Well, Sally left a message for you. She wrote it down in case you called. Let me read it to you." The note said, "Tell him there are other worlds to sing in. He'll know what I mean." I thanked her and hung up. I knew what Sally meant.

Never underestimate the impression you may make on others.

Whose life have you touched today?
May you find the joy and peace you long for.
